Letter from the President

This is a Season to be grateful!

We live in a free country, have shelter and food, we are armed with a strong education, are free to voice our insights, have the ability to worship, can pursue any career, and are free to cast a vote in whatever manner we choose. We live securely and, in most cases, have not witnessed violence. We are grateful to those men and women who protect us, especially when they place themselves in harm's way.

As a Jesuit Catholic school, we are especially proud of our integration of so many cultures, our economic diversification, and the fact that our alumni, parents, and friends make it possible to render financial assistance to 25% of our students. This is one of the keystones of our work, and we are better for it.

I particularly welcome the Season to thank God for the creation of the world, its sustainment, and for the promise of a life with meaning. I thank Him for gracing our school with the depth of our students and the generosity of our parents, faculty, and staff.

So let us worship Him according to our traditions, let us be grateful for the many gifts He has generously bestowed on our families, and for the gift of faith itself.

Reflecting upon the image of the Magi, who brought gifts to the newborn King, calls to mind the generosity of others who continually give so much of themselves for the benefit of Bellarmine and our mission.

Our faculty and staff is a group of dedicated individuals who creatively engage the minds of our students, preparing them well for the path ahead. Strong leadership from my co-administrators and our Boards; the Mothers' Guild and Dads' Club; A.M.E.N. and D.O.G.s; and our Alumni Council; all generously gift their time, energy, and resources for the benefit of Bellarmine. A recent example of that was the 60th Annual Bellarmine Mothers' Guild Fashion Show for Financial Aid: Soiree en Bleu, which took place November 15. Special thanks to co-chairs Cat Westover, Darla Brown, Christine Culine, and their entire team for staging another great production for the benefit of our financial aid program.

As Tom Gornadt retires from his position as Chief Financial Officer of Bellarmine, a position now in the capable hands of Ron Miller, I cannot adequately convey the depth of my gratitude for Tom's strong financial stewardship during his 13 years with us. We are forever grateful for his goodness.

This edition of Bellarmine College Prep Magazine includes the Annual Report of Giving for Fiscal Year 2013-14. We are so fortunate to have been the beneficiary of gifts contributed by 3,382 donors who responded to the ongoing needs of the school, including our current students.

May you and your family enjoy many blessings this holiday season and throughout the new year.

Sincerely yours,

Rev. Paul G. Sheridan, S.J.
President

Editor's Note

During this special season in which we give thanks and reflect upon the calendar year as it comes to a close, it is appropriate that this issue of Bellarmine College Prep Magazine is our Annual Report of Giving Edition.

We are grateful to the numerous donors who, during Fiscal Year 2013-14, gifted Bellarmine in support of our students and our mission. It is so inspiring to be part of such a caring and compassionate community that recognizes the goodness in all that we strive to achieve through each of our programs, whether academically or through our robust co-curriculum.

Bellarmino is blessed in so many ways, not the least of which is the generosity of others. While the Annual Report of Giving recognizes the financial contributions of our benefactors, it should also be noted that a tremendous amount of time is given by our constituents each year, and that gift of time is priceless.

The volunteer hours provided by our Mothers' Guild, Dads' Club, Alumni Mothers Extended Network (AMEN), Dads of Grads (DOGs), Alumni Council, Young Alumni Council; Christian Service Program and Work Grant hours performed by our students; and the countless ways in which our faculty and staff go above and beyond their classroom duties, acting as club moderators, coaches, and adult leaders on a multitude of immersion trips and retreats – all selfless acts that live out the motto of being "men and women for and with others."

On behalf of the family that is Bellarmine, may you and your family enjoy peace, good health, happiness, and many blessings in the year ahead, with our sincere gratitude for your goodness.

Warm regards,

Brian Adams

From the Principal's Office

Each of the past six years, the Bellarmine community has selected one topic of social justice upon which to focus our attention for the year. While groups of faculty initially made these selections, in recent years, we have sought various means to hear from students about those topics relating to the dignity of the human person that are of greatest interest to them.

One struggle that we always face, and often a frustration for the boys, is how to present them with challenges, but also opportunities to respond and do something in return. This year, we are focusing our attention on the scourge of human trafficking, a very disturbing and all-too-present reality in the world today. With this topic in particular, I will admit to concerns about whether we are presenting our students with a problem that is just too large for them to do anything about.

And yet, I also have been struck lately by a number of reasons to hope. I reflect upon the words of Dr. Daniel Siegel, a renowned Doctor of Psychiatry from U.C.L.A.'s School of Medicine, who spoke to us in October about teenage brains. In his years of study, Siegel has concluded that adolescent brains have enormous capacity, particularly when young people are pursuing their passions and tapping into their creativity. He firmly believes that students' desire for competition should be met by having them tackle some of the world's biggest problems – like human trafficking.

I reflected further upon the story of Craig Kielburger, founder of the Free the Children organization. Craig first encountered the subject of human trafficking by mistake, when he was looking for the comics in his newspaper one day, and instead found the story of a 12-year-old boy who had been a slave in Pakistan, and was killed for speaking out against his oppressors after his release. Craig became determined to do something about it, and started working on the issue as a middle school student.

Initially, Craig had visions of leading raids around the world and literally freeing slaves. Over time, he came to understand that plan was not realistic, so instead set his sights on education. To date, his organization has built more than 650 schools around the world.

As the program developed, they realized that providing education was not enough; these communities also needed access to clean water, health services, alternative income, and food security. Today, Craig is only 31 – and yet, he has made an enormous impact on the world. And it started when he was 12 – younger than any of this year's freshmen!

I first learned about Craig through one of our students, senior Drew Descourouez, who founded Bellarmine's own chapter of Free the Children when he was a freshman. Drew has been energetic and creative in the ways he and others have imagined to support the work of Free the Children. As just one example, he rallied his friends in the Theatre department to put on various shows in the theatre with Sanguine Humours (our improvisational troupe) to raise money so that we can help build a school overseas. I'm overjoyed when I see these moving examples of our mission in action – students who employ their gifts and talents in a way that is of service to others. This is truly an example of serving as men for and with others.

I realize that human trafficking is an enormous problem. I also believe that if a series of individuals keeps saying that the problem is too big, it will never be remedied. I know that if our students work with others, pursue their passions, and apply their talents towards the betterment of the world, they can and they will make a real difference. That is what inspires me about this mission of Jesuit education. It is such a privilege to work with young men who are committed to making a difference in their world. Go Bells! Go and set the world on fire!

Feast of St. Robert Bellarmine

Kenan Mathews '15 leads the Prayers of the Faithful at one of several Masses celebrated in honor of the Feast Day of St. Robert Bellarmine. (photo by Sheila Collison).

The Feast Day of St. Robert Bellarmine was celebrated with a series of Masses on September 17 and 18. Classes gathered for prayer in the Leontyne Chapel, where seven Masses were celebrated over two days, during which many faculty and staff members reflected upon the school's Patron Saint and the vocation of Jesuit education. Among those sharing their insights were Sam Bliss '02, Dan Baxter '02, Jeremy Lum '02, Tom Alessandri '69, Fr. Mario Prietto, S.J., and Fr. Russ Roide, S.J. A relic was displayed, as were volumes of St. Robert Bellarmine's work, on loan from the Santa Clara University archives.

New CFO, Ron Miller

Bellarmino recently welcomed Ron Miller as the school's new Chief Financial Officer.

Ron comes to Bellarmine with impressive executive-level experience, primarily in the semiconductor industry, and with a strong background in finance and business operations. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in management, as well as a Master of Business Administration degree.

Ron's areas of responsibility include the Business Office, Buildings & Grounds, Human Resources, Custodial, and Food Services. He will also have responsibility for all new construction and renovations on campus.

A resident of San Jose's College Park neighborhood, in which Bellarmine is located, Ron is a past president of the College Park Neighborhood Association.

Tom Gorndt Tribute

The change in seasons also brought a change to the Business Office at Bellarmine, with the retirement of longtime Chief Financial Officer Tom Gorndt.

An officer of the school and member of its leadership team, Tom retired at the end of October following 13 years at Bellarmine. His stewardship was instrumental during the successful Campaign for the 21st Century and the resulting physical transformation of the campus.

"Tom Gorndt came to Bellarmine 13 years ago and has had an incredible influence on the school," said Fr. Paul Sheridan, S.J., president. "He has guided its financial operation where we now enjoy balanced budgets, prudent and effective investments, radical new facilities and great relationships with our neighbors. Bellarmine will surely miss his presence."

Tom has been quick to acknowledge the good works of others, past and present. "I have had the good fortune of working with Frs. Sheridan, Muller, and Wade. They have been exceptional business partners, and all played a major role in the turnaround that we have made to school finances and to the physical plant," noted Tom recently. "These three Jesuits, along with Chris Meyercord and our Boards of Trustees and Regents, comprised a team that created a school that is second to none in Northern California."

"As Tom's counterpart, the chair of the Physical Resources Committee in the Campaign for the 21st Century, I would like to thank Tom for his commitment, knowledge, and management. They were invaluable," said Dan Smith III. "It was an honor to work with the man who seamlessly strategized from the beginning with staff to identify true needs, collaborated with the College Park community, and helped identify cost-effective designs with Steinberg/Devcon in the most sensitive way. The success of the Building Campaign is due in large part to my friend, Tom Gorndt."

Beyond solid financial footing and new facilities, Tom is proud of the school's ability over the years to meet the increasing need for tuition assistance. "When I started at the end of the 2000-01 school year, we gave $515,000 in aid to 176 students. In 2014-15, we will give out $4.1 million to over 400 students," Tom noted. "In the 13 years that I have been with Bellarmine, over 4,000 students have received a total of $30.1 million in financial aid. Had it not been for the fundraising efforts of our Development Department, and Fr. Mathewson managing the Work Grant program, this would never have happened."

Tom's commitment to Bellarmine was found in places far outside his office on the second floor of Mathewson Hall. "For many years, Tom has gone on immersion trips to Mexico with our dads and students alike," noted Fr. Sheridan, S.J., adding, "He cares very much for our financial aid students and has helped to craft a system of support for them." Tom's financial advice has also been an asset to such schools as Sacred Heart Nativity and Cristo Rey San Jose Jesuit High School.

Tom has also been instrumental in collaborating with the College Park Neighborhood Association (CPNA). "I would also like to thank the neighbors of Bellarmine for their cooperation as we worked through what, at times, seemed like endless construction," Tom said. "The school and the neighbors have built a level of trust and cooperation that has resulted in improved safety and quality of life for everyone."

This spirit of collaboration was echoed by neighborhood leadership. "Tom has done an incredible job working with the College Park neighborhood," said Clay Reigel '90, current president of the CPNA. "He has helped to create a strong working relationship between the School and its neighbors, with a true sense of partnership, cooperation, and communication. It's a legacy of which Tom can be proud!"

As Tom embarks on his well-deserved retirement, he does so with a deep sense of having left Bellarmine in very good shape. "I feel confident that the finances of the School are well-positioned to assure its existence for another 163 years."

National Merit Semifinalists

Bells Named National Merit Semifinalists

Seventeen Bells were announced as semifinalists in the 2015 National Merit Scholarship (NMS) Program. Less than one percent of U.S. high school seniors are awarded this status, which is based upon the student's performance in the Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT).

About 1.5 million students from more than 22,000 high schools entered into the competition, with approximately 16,000 achieving semifinalist status. To become a finalist, students must submit a detailed scholarship application, providing information regarding their academic record, participation in school and community activities, demonstrated leadership abilities and honors/awards received. Finalists will be named.

Congratulations to Bellarmine Semifinalists:

Abhishek Aditham	Blake Chellew	Andrea Sandri
Neil Agarwal	Jaehun Kim	Hersh Sanghvi
Aayush Boddu	Justin Lee	Ishan Sinha
Ian Brown	Walter Liu	Jeremy Tanlimco

In addition, 44 Bellarmine students were announced as Commended Students in the National Merit Program, which is recognition of their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the 2015 competition for NMS awards, they are placed among the top five percent of all students having taken the PSAT/NMSQT.

Commended Students:

Bells Strive to Stop Hunger Now

Students from the Class of 2018, and their Big Brothers, recently participated in an effort to curb global hunger. Working with the nonprofit organization, Stop Hunger Now, and with the support of Bellarmine and Sandisk, the students took time during their Freshman Retreat, held on campus October 12, to bag 15,000 shelf-stable meals that will be distributed in developing countries. The 12-hour retreat focused on the school qualities of faith, service, and community. Stop Hunger Now is an international hunger relief agency that has, since 1998, coordinated the distribution of food and other lifesaving aid to children and families in countries all over the world. Its meal packaging program features an assembly process that combines rice, soy, dehydrated vegetables and a flavoring mix, including 21 essential vitamins and minerals, into small meal packets.

Fiscal Year 2013-2014 | Annual Report of Giving Edition

Letter from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees

As chairman of the Bellarmine Board of Trustees, I welcome the opportunity to convey appreciation to the many donors listed within the pages of the 2013-2014 Annual Report of Giving. Strong financial support is essential to sustaining an outstanding educational experience for our students in the Jesuit tradition, and the generosity of the Bellarmine Community continues to be inspiring.

I would also like to thank my fellow Trustees and the members of the Board of Regents who, under the leadership of Matt Medeiros, tirelessly give so much of themselves throughout the year to ensure fiduciary oversight of this institution that we are all privileged to serve. I am honored to be among the dedicated men and women who comprise the Trustees and Regents, working in conjunction with Bellarmine's administrators, in support of our important mission.

As a Bellarmine alumnus, and parent of two alumni, I know first-hand the positive difference a Bellarmine education makes in the lives of young men. While Bellarmine is a College Preparatory, in a very real sense one may also call it a "Life Preparatory." Lessons learned while a student at Bellarmine extend far beyond the classroom. Whether through providing service to nonprofit agencies in our community, or improving the quality of life in a variety of areas throughout the globe during an immersion experience, our students—and alumni—see the world through the eyes of one who has been encouraged to, in the words of Mahatma Gandhi, "be the change that you wish to see in the world."

In this Annual Report of Giving, it is also appropriate to give special recognition to two men who have given so much to Bellarmine and whose respective journeys at this institution draw to a close this year.

We have been blessed to have the leadership of Father Paul Sheridan, S.J. as president since December 2005. Under his guidance, and because of his vision, Bellarmine is what it is today. With the support of the Boards of Trustees and Regents, the exemplary fundraising by so many Bellarmine staff and volunteers, and the wonderful generosity of benefactors, this campus has been transformed into what has been called by at least one parent as "the college where my son attended high school." Father Sheridan's love of Bellarmine, its students, and its mission is palpable in every academic and co-curricular program. We are grateful for his stewardship, and wish him God's speed on his next assignment following the close of this academic year, at which time we will welcome his successor, Father Jack McLain, S.J.

We are also grateful to our Chief Financial Officer, Tom Gorndt, who for more than 13 years has helped keep Bellarmine on solid financial ground, and who has acted as on-site project manager for the multitude of campus renovation projects spanning so many years. Tom, who is also a parent of two Bellarmine alumni, is retiring during this calendar year. While Tom transfers oversight of the Business Office to our new CFO, Ron Miller, he does so with the satisfaction of knowing that Bellarmine has remained financially solid, and that is largely due to Tom's outstanding work ethic and keen due diligence in every aspect of his responsibilities.

As you read each donor name in this Annual Report of Giving, I hope you will join me in a prayer of thanksgiving for the goodness of so many whose generosity is advancing opportunities for our students.

Gratefully,

Marc J. Rebboah '77
Chairman
Board of Trustees

President's Award Recipient 2013-2014

2013 President's Award Cheryl and Daniel H. Smith, III

Dan and Cheryl have provided innumerable benefits to countless lives in many ways; but have done so quietly, like a soft autumn breeze whispering through the leaves.

Cheryl and Daniel H. Smith, III

Cheryl and Dan Smith's roots run deep in the East foothills of San Jose. In fact, those roots are at the base of a family tree with branches spanning more than a century in what was once known as The Valley of Heart's Delight, going back generations to Cheryl's great-grandfather, James Dixon. And much like the shelter granted by a strong shade tree, Dan and Cheryl have provided innumerable benefits to countless lives in many ways; but have done so quietly, like a soft autumn breeze whispering through the leaves.

Dan's family moved from Hayward to San Jose in the mid-1960s, and the Smith family has been engaged in and supportive of their community ever since. "Our parents gave us a road map to build upon and push forward," said Dan recently regarding their philosophy of philanthropy.

When young Cheryl Hillis and Dan Smith met while attending the same pre-school, little did they know that they would both go on to attend Mount Pleasant High School, and would eventually also become husband and wife, now celebrating 29 years of marriage. They are proud parents of a daughter, Stephanie, who graduated from Castilleja School and Santa Clara University and who is currently in a certification program at Stanford University while working for Deloitte in the area of risk management; and a son, Daniel H. Smith, IV, a Bellarmine alumnus from the Class of 2005, the Leavey School of Business Class of 2009, and who is in his final year at Santa Clara University Law School and an active member of Bellarmine's Young Alumni Council.

When Cheryl and Dan are not busy advancing the family business, Dan, a voracious reader, is likely to be found scoping out a good book or, as an avid outdoorsman, scoping out big game; while Cheryl may be exercising her passion of culinary endeavors or enjoying the outdoors while running.

During their years as Bellarmine parents, Cheryl was actively involved in the Golden Bell Auction, and Dan was instrumental in the transformation of the campus during the Campaign for the 21st Century as a member of the Board of Regents, on the Physical Resources Committee, which he continues to chair while also serving as a member of the Board of Trustees; and through generous financial support and in-kind gifts of time and materials through the family business, the well-respected plastering contractor firm D.H. Smith Company.

Cheryl and Dan's support of Bellarmine and Santa Clara University are indicative of their belief in the values of Jesuit education, which they demonstrate by supporting a myriad of other worthy missions, both locally and globally, including the West Contra Costa Salesian Boys & Girls Club in Richmond; HomeAid, providing housing for homeless through the Home Builders Association; Lyle Morris Family Center in Antioch; the Evelyn Bautista Full Circle Scholarship at Mount Pleasant High School; Students Rising Above; and by providing resources for education in such regions as Pakistan and Turkey.

The Smith's generosity is largely under the radar, which is the preference of this humble couple who feels fortunate to be in a position to pay it forward, and is uncomfortable in the position of being in the public spotlight.

Dan explains their support of Bellarmine in a straight-forward manner one has come to expect from him: "The mission of raising young men to be a benefit to others – that is the driving factor. It is a blessing for us to give back and to participate in what is Bellarmine."

We were proud to convey our gratitude to Cheryl and Daniel H. Smith, III for the blessing they are to the family that is Bellarmine, and for allowing us to honor this very private couple with public recognition as recipients of the 2013 President's Award.

President's Club

Membership in the President's Club is awarded to those whose gifts or commitments were $2,000-$4,999 during the fiscal year or to those who otherwise significantly contributed to the life of the school.

Class Scholarship Fund 2013-2014

Current Student Giving

Bellarmine's Student Giving Program, which began with the Class of 2011, encourages all current students to make a gift in support of the Direct Financial Aid program, providing tuition assistance to their Bellarmine Brothers. Fiscal Year 2013-2014 was the first during which all four classes were solicited. Listed below are the names of students who participated in the Classes of 2015, 2016, and 2017. Students from the graduating Class of 2014 who participated can be found in the Alumni Giving section. All of our current students who support the Direct Financial Aid Fund are exemplary role models for their peers, and for Bellarmine alumni, as to the importance of giving back to an institution from which they have greatly benefitted.

Gifts-in-Kind

In addition to financial support, Bellarmine relies on the generosity of those who contribute non-monetary items and services, considered Gifts-in-Kind. These gifts save the school dollars which we are able to apply directly to support the programs and services we provide for our students. The following individuals and companies have provided Gifts-in-Kind to Bellarmine during the fiscal year 2013-2014.

The Middle Class Challenge:

How does a school that prides itself on educating young men from all walks of life deal with an ever-shrinking middle class?

One of Bellarmine's distinctive qualities is that it seeks to educate young men from all backgrounds, including students from various family income levels. The school has always sought to create an educational environment that reflects, as best as possible, the society in which our graduates will live and work. We want students who will thrive on learning from the varied experiences of their peers and teachers.

However, we are now faced with a situation where an important part of Bellarmine's educational mosaic is slowly disappearing.

As we look forward, we are concerned that middle income families will not be able to afford the tuition for their sons. Without some substantial amount of aid, these boys will not be able to attend our school.

While we work very hard to keep tuition increases to a minimum, providing a high-quality classroom and co-curricular experience in a Jesuit-inspired environment is an expensive endeavor in this area.

So, our challenge is this: Bellarmine must increase the amount of its endowment funds to help support all of our students, or it risks becoming a school only for the wealthy and poor, excluding the middle class families who have been such a valuable part of the rich tradition of the school. Without these families, we will not be true to our mission as a Jesuit high school.

Bequests from wills and trusts, as well as other gifts made by generous alumni and friends, have been instrumental in strengthening and sustaining Bellarmine over the years. The continuation and expansion of this tradition of giving will contribute to Bellarmine's future financial fitness and allow us to continue educating young men from all backgrounds so that the vitality of our school and community grows stronger each year.

These legacy gifts are critical to support the work we do here in the education and formation of our students, as those gifts help build and maintain our endowment. This endowment income gives us the resources required to assist students with need-based financial aid so that we can attract and retain young men (especially those from the middle class) who will most benefit from a Jesuit education.

Legacy giving is a great way for anyone who wants to contribute to Bellarmine and help the school in the work that it does. Such legacy gifts are relatively easy to make, and can be done with little or no cost to the donor.

You may make a specific gift to Bellarmine, or you may designate Bellarmine as the beneficiary of all or part of the remainder of your estate or trust. Another simple way to include Bellarmine in your estate or gift plans is to name the school as a beneficiary of your retirement plan, life insurance policy, or other financial account.

If you have already established a bequest or other gift to Bellarmine in your estate plan, please let us know so that we may acknowledge your generosity and include you as a member of our legacy giving society.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions about how to proceed, or need additional estate or gift planning information.

Fr. Prietto, S.J. visits with students in the Leontyne Chapel Garden.

Each issue of Bellarmine College Prep Magazine highlights a member of the Bellarmine Jesuit Community, a way to further know our beloved Jesuits as individuals.

This edition features Rev. Mario Prietto, S.J. who is currently in his first year as Superior of the Bellarmine Jesuit Community, and an essential member of the Campus Ministry team.

"One of the things I appreciate about St. Ignatius' spirituality is that he insists that our work always takes place in context: when we have grand plans or exciting ideas, we need to realize those dreams with an awareness of the world we live in and a sensitivity to the needs of our community," said Nick Creech '03, director of Campus Ministry. "Fr. Mario is a consummate Jesuit in the way that he sees in context. Almost every day he comes into the office ready to tell a story about the way he saw God at work in the simple kindness of a student, the wise words of a colleague, or a group of people who he witnessed at a restaurant. He keeps me grounded by constantly reminding me that God is very near."

Fr. Prietto's parents immigrated from Peru and Mexico to Los Angeles, where they met, married and had six children. His interests include golfing, jogging, and swimming, and he is an avid USC football fan.

Enthusiasm, sense of humor, and spirituality are attributes consistently displayed by Fr. Prietto, and which are embraced by his Bellarmine family.

Fr. Prietto, S.J., shares a laugh with Campus Ministry colleagues Missy Scott-Lorentz and Nick Creech '03.

Bellarmino Creates
Free Online Prep Course
for High School Placement Test

Bellarmino College Preparatory has created a free online prep course for the High School Placement Test (HSPT), which is a staple of the admissions process into private high schools across the country.

The program offering is an alternative to costly test prep courses and grants equal access to quality instruction pertaining to the HSPT. It is available to any student who needs to take the HSPT – male or female, residing in the Bay Area or elsewhere, applying to Bellarmine or any other private school. There is no advantage given to Bellarmine applicants who enroll in it or disadvantage given to those who don't.

"We were motivated to create this program because of our concern over the amount of money that some parents are paying for their students to take an HSPT preparation course, and the inequality created for those who can't afford such programs," said Bellarmine principal Chris Meyercord '88. "We're also sensitive to the anxiety students feel regarding the mystery around what is covered on the test and what format it follows, and felt that we could alleviate these issues by modeling our approach after what the redesigned SAT will be doing."

A team of three Bellarmine teachers from the Math and English departments collaborated to create the program, which is hosted on Canvas, the same software platform that Bellarmine instructors use every day. The course analyzes a student's grasp of a subject area through partiallength diagnostic tests which mimic the format of the HSPT, and points them to existing web content delivered via Khan Academy and YouTube for the review of concepts with which they need help.

"Because the HSPT tests on content that is common to most middle school curricula, such as reading, mathematics and language, the truth is that there is a lot of terrific free content available to help students," explained faculty member Nick Creech '03, who spearheaded the project for Bellarmine. "In addition to creating the diagnostic exams, much of our work was in assessing and linking content which sufficiently and appropriately explained concepts included on the exam."

Bellarmino's director of admissions, Scott McLarty, is in full support of the new program and believes it is an important milestone in the admissions process. "This program is just one more way Bellarmine is trying to live out its mission of being 'for and with others' – addressing, in this case, those who want to attend Catholic High School. Anything that can encourage interest in Catholic secondary education and increase access to solid preparation for our schools is a step in the right direction."

The test prep course can be accessed via the Bellarmine website at: www.bcp.org/hspt

In Memoriam

John L. Albanese '66

entered into eternal rest June 26, 2014, following a nine-week pulmonary illness. Among John's family members who also attended Bellarmine are his sons, Kevin '92, Phillip '04 and Chris; and John's late father, Joseph J. Albanese '36. John was a larger-than-life character whose love of life was contagious. His generosity to Bellarmine was exemplary, both personally and professionally. Behind what some may have seen as a tough exterior, many also knew his softer side, a man of great passion and compassion, helping countless individuals and organizations in very quiet ways. In his Homily at John's Funeral Mass held at Leavey Center on the campus of Santa Clara University, Fr. Richard Cobb, S.J., noted the following: "Remember Jesus' words, from today's Gospel, 'Whenever you did this for the least of my brethren, you did it for me.' We will never know just how many lives John Albanese touched." Gifts to Bellarmine in memory of John may be contributed to the John L. Albanese '66 Memorial Financial Aid Endowment.

Helen Niki Del Biaggio

passed away September 19, 2014, after a lengthy battle with cancer. Helen and her husband, William J. Del Biaggio, Jr. '58, enjoyed 48 years of marriage. Their Bellarmine family legacy includes sons William III (Boots) '85 and Nicholas '89; and grandsons William IV (Boots) '16, Chase '17, and Nicholas '18. Helen was a constant presence at Bellarmine events, and served as president of the Mothers' Guild in 1984-85 and co-chair of the Mothers' Guild Fashion Show for Financial Aid in 1988-89. Helen could light up a room with her smile and laughter, and will long be remembered for her care and concern for others, even while she faced her illness. Gifts to Bellarmine in memory of Helen may be contributed to The Bellarmine Fund or the Mothers' Guild Financial Aid Endowment.

MISSION STATEMENT

Bellarmino College Preparatory is a community of men and women gathered together by God for the purpose of educating the student to seek justice and truth throughout his life. We are a Catholic school in the tradition of St. Ignatius of Loyola, the Founder of the Society of Jesus. As such, our entire school program is dedicated to forming “men for and with others” – persons whose lives will be dedicated to bringing all their God-given talents to fullness and to living according to the pattern of service inaugurated by Jesus Christ.
